Natural Timber That Shapes Space

North Eden Timber supplies premium-quality hardwood battens manufactured from two of Australia's most durable hardwood species – Spotted Gum and Ironbark. Precision machined to 40x30mm with an arrissed edge, our battens are ideal for screening, fencing, façades and architectural features where a clean, contemporary appearance is desired. Combining natural beauty with exceptional strength and durability, Spotted Gum and Ironbark battens are well suited to both residential and commercial projects. Their excellent weather resistance and timeless character make them a popular choice for external applications throughout Australia and New Zealand.
